[illegible] in replying spoke most cordially [illegible] saying "The United States is the only [illegible] I am Pope in the eyes of the Government [illegible] always afraid lest the European Gov[illegible] oppose my acts, whereas I can freely [illegible] documents to the United States with [illegible] opposition on the part of its Govern[illegible]."

[illegible] War News.

[illegible] 24.—The Carlists made an attack on [illegible] day and the garrison to avoid the [illegible] the place surrendered. The insurgents [illegible] on the authorities for $6 000 and [illegible] as hostages for its payment. [illegible] by Republican troops who [illegible] twenty.

[illegible] Butler's $20,000 Fee.—Some years ago [illegible] named G B Lemar sued the [illegible] for $600,000 worth of cotton [illegible] he claimed was confiscated during the [illegible]. Mr. Lemar employed as his counsel Mr [illegible], of this city agreeing to give [illegible] in case the suit was successful, $20 000. [illegible] employed Gen B F Butler and [illegible] pushed the case with such energy [illegible] in favor of Lemar was granted [illegible] three months ago for $579 000. Gen [illegible] $20 000 from the above sum [illegible] the remainder to Lemar leaving [illegible] out in the cold. The latter [illegible] for a fair share of the $20 000, [illegible] a blunt refusal to give up a [illegible]. Now Herbert has commenced suit [illegible] Lemar to recover the fee for which he [illegible] in case the suit was successful and [illegible] application before Judge Tappan [illegible] Brooklyn branch of the Supreme [illegible] commission to take the testimony [illegible] at Washington. The application [illegible], but, after some argument, [illegible] the application to take the [illegible] of Gen Butler at his home, in Massachusetts, if he cannot be found in New York [illegible] the next two weeks.—N Y Times.

[illegible] an Unmanageable Horse.—[illegible] and high-spirited horse would [illegible] a shoe to be put on his feet or any [illegible] to handle his feet. In an attempt to [illegible] horse recently he resisted all efforts, [illegible] everything but an anvil and [illegible] killing himself against that and [illegible] was brought back to his stable unshod. [illegible] was just on the eve of consigning [illegible] the plow, where he might work bare[illegible], when an officer in our service lately re[illegible] from Mexico, took a cord about the [illegible] of a common bedcord put it in the mouth [illegible] the horse like a bit and tied it tightly on [illegible] head, passing his left ear under [illegible], not painfully tight but tight [illegible] to keep the ear down and the cord in [illegible]. This done, he patted the horse gently [illegible] side of the head and commanded him [illegible], and instantly the horse obeyed [illegible] and as gentle and obedient [illegible] well-trained dog suffering his feet to be [illegible] with entire impunity, acting in all respects [illegible] stager. The gentleman who [illegible] this exceedingly simple means [illegible] a very dangerous propensity in[illegible] it is practiced in Mexico and [illegible] in the management of wild [illegible].—[illegible] Advertiser.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco.

San Francisco June 24.—Marks and Son were before the municipal court this morning on the motion for a new trial. Their counsel however stated that they had not sufficiently examined the testimony in the case and asked an adjournment till next Wednesday, which was granted.

The racer Sam Purdy will be sold at auction this afternoon and bets are freely made as to the price he will bring. The opinion is that at least $2 000 will be paid for him.

Greenbacks 89¾@90¼.

San Francisco June 24.—Ex police officer W W Stone committed suicide this evening at his residence on Clay street. He was at the City Hall this afternoon and seemed all right then but went home lay down on a sofa and drawing a pistol shot himself through the heart. He died instantly. Deceased had been drinking to excess and it is thought he was laboring under an attack of delirium tremens when he committed the fatal act. He leaves a wife and family.

It is now stated that McCord and Malone bought Sam Purdy for the stockbroker Keene.

Attorney-General Love will conduct the prosecution of the notorious robber and murderer Tiburcio Vasquez.

Howard Morrison was arrested this evening for assaulting Manager Thos Maguire with a deadly weapon. Yesterday afternoon Maguire had an altercation at the Alhambra Theater with Fannie Young Morrison's wife, in the course of which he ordered her out of the place and applied opprobrious epithets to her and threatened to cowhide her. This led to another altercation between her husband and Maguire in the course of which the former tried to shoot him. Morrison is out on bail.

The steamer Pacific was to sail as an extra vessel for southern and Mexican ports to-morrow and the Panama and afterwards the steamer China will be dispatched as extras to the same destination. This speaks well for the increasing business of the Pacific Mail Company on this route.

The woman pedestrian who came from the East on foot says her name is Sophia Gatsen, was born in Sweden in 1836 and that her father is a Methodist preacher at Evanston, Illinois. She refuses to say why she came here but says she is satisfied with her visit and is anxious to go home, says she was never married, eats nothing but bread and water, and keeps a hymn book constantly in sight. It is believed the city authorities will take charge of her.

San Francisco June 24.—The celebrated trotting stallion Sam Purdy, was sold at auction to-day for $21 500 to J McCord. McCord bid Sam Purdy in for Frank Malone, who is the real purchaser.

Interior California.

San Diego June 24.—This is San Juan day and the Mexicans are having a good time.

A number of arrastras are at work at Oroblanco mine with fine prospects, rich specimens of gold, silver and copper being brought in every day.

Los Angeles June 24.—W H Workman and Wm. Bredham agent of W F & Co collected $150 in aid of the Louisiana sufferers. It is strongly urged that the money raised for the Fourth of July celebration be devoted to the same purpose.

The Los Angeles Petroleum Refining Company to-day made a public trial of Carrera's method of refining crude petroleum. It was a complete success. In twenty minutes from commencement a superior article of kerosene was passed among spectators. By this process oil can be refined at a cost of two cents per gallon and 85 per cent extracted from crude oil.

A new stage route has been opened from Spadra to San Bernardino. It goes by way of the Chino ranch the Rincon and Santa Ana river via Riverside to San Bernardino.

A rumor prevailed in this city this morning that Chaves had been captured near San Fernando.

Shasta, June 24.—The jury in the Baker murder case after being out a little over an hour, rendered a verdict of murder in the first degree. He will be sentenced on Saturday.

The weather is still cold and windy with indications of rain.

Sacramento June 24.—The bond of G A Shurtleff as Superintendent of the State Insane Asylum to the amount of $20,000 was filed in the office of the Secretary of State to-day.

Articles of incorporation of the Rucker Mining Company were filed in the office of the Secretary of State to-day. The capital stock is $350,000.

The Treasurer of Venture Company paid into the State Treasury, to-day $10 801.

Calistoga June 24.—One of the four horse teams loaded with the immense timbers for the Calistoga mine while going up the grade on St Helena mountain this morning slid off the grade but was stopped by a tree and just saved the horses, wagon and driver from a fall of a hundred feet into the canyon below. All was set right with but slight damage to the wagon.

Weather cool and pleasant.

UTAH

Salt Lake, June 24.—There is but little excitement here over the passage of the Poland bill. Both parties claim a triumph, and all are pretty well satisfied. The News claims that it can injure no one so much as its friends and the Congress who passed it.

There have been quite a number of rich strikes in Dry Canyon within the past few days and mining prospects throughout the Territory were never better.

ARIZONA.

San Diego June 24.—The World this evening has a dispatch from Tucson Arizona of June 24th. Captain Hamilton's scouting party returned to Camp Lowell last night, and report seeing a party of twelve San Carlos Indians after Chuntz. They had plenty fresh beef and said they had taken it from Chuntz band. Captain Hamilton thinks that this party killed the cattle and did not get the beef from Chuntz band as they made contradictory statements.

Terrible Burning Accident.—Nashville June 12.—Miss Dollie Smith aged about 17 years a student of the female school at Oakland, Kentucky was fatally burned last night during the school exhibition services. She was standing on the stage near a coal-oil lamp which exploded and at once enveloped her in flames. She immediately rushed among the audience causing great confusion among them, most of them escaping by the windows and doors. Her father, in endeavoring to save her had his hands seriously burned. The physicians this morning report that she is dying.

The Salem Fire Department have been invited to attend the Fourth of July Celebration at Albany.

CLERGYMEN AND THEIR SALARIES

A Chicago letter to the New York Times gives this interesting comparison of men and salaries in the Western metropolis:

For some time past the Methodist brethren of this city have felt the want of more popular pulpit orators and are now looking around for big guns to take the places of two or three pastors of small calibre in the wealthier churches. There was a time when the Methodists boasted more first class preachers than any other denomination in Chicago. That was when Drs Hatfield Eddy Tiffany Reed Fowler Prof E O Haven and others were in the pulpit. None of these are now in this part of the country save Dr Fowler President of the Northwestern University at Evanston. The leading Methodist divines of the city are Dr Thomas of the First and Dr Peck of Centenary Church. The First Church Society is the wealthiest religious body in Chicago. This Church is a business block with an interior and auditorium large enough to seat 1 200 persons. The rentals of the block amount to not less than $48 000 per annum. And after all the pastor receives but $4 000 per year as compensation for his arduous labors. As a general thing however the preachers of Chicago are well paid for their services. Their salaries compare favorably with the best stipends attainable in secular life. They whose feet are beautiful upon the mountains and who bring glad tidings to pioneer grangers, of whom the circuit rider is an example, are paid sums ranging from $14 to $500 per annum. They have but little chance to lay up treasures on earth but hope for greater things in heaven. But the more prominent clergymen are liberally rewarded for their services. In proportion to the work actually performed they receive more than the city official whose salaries are: Mayor $4 000, Corporation Counsel $6 000, City Controller $4 000, City Attorney $5 000, Collector of Taxes $4 000. The clergymen's salaries are as follows: Rev Robert Laird Collier of the First Unitarian Church receives $5 000 and the free use of a marble front house which cost his society $32 000—besides which he is permitted a three months absence in Europe. Dr Robert Collyer receives $5 000. Dr W H Ryder of St Paul's (Universalist) is paid four thousand dollars and is furnished with a house rent free. Dr William Alvin Bartlett of Plymouth Congregational receives $7,000 which is the largest salary paid in Chicago. Rev E P Goodwin of the First Congregational is paid $5 000 per annum and house free. Dr Helmer of Union Park Congregational Church receives $5 000. Rev Abbott Kittredge of the Third Church is the best paid Presbyterian, receiving no less than $6 000 for his service and house free. The Fourth Presbyterian Church recompenses Prof Swing for his labors with an annual gift of $6,000; they talk of increasing it to $8 000. Rev Mr Gibson of the Second Church also receives $6 000. Rev Arthur Mitchell one of the younger clergymen receives $5,000 and Rev C J Thompson of the Fifth Church $4 000 per annum. The Methodists as has been stated are not so liberal with their money. Dr Peck is paid $4,000 and is furnished with a parsonage. Dr Thomas receives $4 000. Dr McKeown who was one of the examiners appointed to the West Point Academy gets but $3 000 and Rev S McChesney of Trinity Church earns his $4 000. Dr W W Evarts of the First Baptist is paid $5 000; the Goodspeed brothers pastors of the Second Baptist Church receive $6 000 for their combined services and Rev F M Ellis of the Michigan Avenue Baptist Church $5 000. The Episcopal clergymen with but few exceptions, are but poorly recompensed for their services. Rev Edward Sullivan of Trinity Church heads the list with a $6 000 salary and a rectory thrown in. It has often been wondered at why this really intelligent and powerful preacher should never have been complimented with a D D from some one of the many degree furnishing colleges. Dr Clinton Locke rector of Grace, the fashionable church, is paid $6 000. Rev H N Powers of St Johns receives $3 000 per annum and is furnished with a rectory. The salaries of the other Episcopal clergymen range from $800 to $2 500 per annum.

EXPLORING THE HEAVENS

Try a still further flight—pass over twenty millions of millions of miles. We have reached the nearest of the stars, and taking our stand on one of its planets and waiting till evening falls we look eagerly abroad to mark the altered aspect of the heavens. Here surely where we have put such an overwhelming distance between us and our former position, the face of the sky will be no longer recognizable—the old heavens will have passed away from over our head as well as the old earth from beneath our feet. But no—as the stars one by one steal out from the darkness, they group themselves into their old well known configurations. There is the Little Bear with its pole star and the Great Bear with its pointers; there are the bands of Orion, and the sweet influence of Pleiades; there are Mazaroth and Arcturus just as they appeared to Job five thousand years ago and sixty billion miles away. Vast as is the space we have traversed it is not a thousandth part of that which separates the two most distant stars of the system, and hence we need not wonder that the change we have found is no greater than that which comes over the distant landscape as the traveler advances a score or two of yards along his way. Let us then pursue our journey still further. Sun after sun beams upon us with its brilliant band of planets and comets—sun after sun pales and lessens in the distance as we leave it behind in our flight. And gradually a change creeps over the face of the heavens. The general figures of the constellations remain the same, but those behind contract their dimensions and shrink more closely together while those in front are opening out and growing larger and brighter. At length we near the further confines of the Milky Way. Very few and very scattered are the stars which still remain in front of us. We can number them all with ease. And now but three are left before us—but two—but one. That one is reached in turn. We pass to the further side and look forth into the mysterious abyss which lies beyond. Before, behind, to the right, to the left—which way we turn our gaze it meets with deep, but the blackness of darkness—the unlit gloom of the midnight sky is unbroken by the gleam of a single star. Onward still we wing our daring flight. The last resting place is abandoned, the last sun is left behind, and we venture forth into the trackless waste of space. One by one the planets of this last sun are passed in our course; now and then a comet overtakes us and blazes swiftly past into the depths beyond; but if we look onward we see that even it soon pauses in its reckless flight and wheels back on rapid wing to less solitary and untrodden regions. The sun itself dwindles down to a star and takes its place among a cluster of others which come forth from behind and round it, its paling light permits them to become visible. And soon this cluster too fades till all distinction of stars in it is lost and nothing is left but a dim white patch of light, ere long to be blotted out in turn as it seems to be swallowed up by the surrounding darkness. All created work are left behind, and we stand alone face to face with the infinitude of God—alone where mortal footstep has never trod, where presence there has never been save that of the ever omnipresent Creator and the spirits which pass and repass ascending and descending the ladder of vision which bridges the chasm between heaven and earth as they go and come ministering to the heirs of salvation.—The Romance of Astronomy.

CROP REPORTS IN THE EAST

An Indianapolis special to the New York Times dated June 13th says:

The following is a synopsis of the leading information published in the National Crop Reporter to-day. Reports from correspondents dated June 1 indicate that a severe drought was prevailing in nearly all portions of the country east of the Rocky mountains as far as New England, with more or less damage to crops. In most sections since the date of those reports there have been very general rains throughout the country and it is thought enough to check all damage on the score of drought. The condition of the growing wheat in the States of Illinois Indiana Iowa Kansas Minnesota Missouri Ohio and Wisconsin was nearly three per cent above a good average condition. In Illinois and Missouri the condition of the wheat was very high, in Iowa five per cent above an average, and in the other States below the average. The condition of oats in the same States at the date mentioned was six per cent below good average, Missouri being the only State reporting above an average. Estimates in relation to the area sown this season in barley indicate in the States previously mentioned an increase over last year of 262 acres and make the area this year in round numbers 590 000 acres. There is an estimated falling off in the rye area averaging in the same States three per cent or 10 000 acres. The area this year is placed at a trifle less than 3 000 acres. Special returns in relation to the tobacco crop in Kentucky Southern Ohio and Indiana and in Tennessee are such as to make the outlook a very bad one. Aside from the late frosts the bug fly and other insects have been very destructive. No transplanting had been done up to June 1st, the ground being too dry. It seems to be the general opinion among growers and dealers that prospects are not in favor of more than one half to two-thirds of last year's crop.

Much damage is reported as done by the potato bug which is evidently increasing in number. Comparatively little damage is reported as done by the chinch bug and no extensive destruction by grasshoppers.

FOURTH OF JULY AT KALAMA

GRAND CELEBRATION OF THE 98TH ANNIVERSARY OF OUR NATIONAL INDEPENDENCE

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

The citizens of Kalama and vicinity intend celebrating the coming Fourth of July by a railroad excursion to Chehalis Station on the line of the N P R R fifty four miles and return.

Boats will arrive at Kalama from Portland bringing the Portland City Brass Band, also from Vancouver, St Helens and Lewis river. The boats will come from Lower Columbia bringing the people from Cathlamet, Oak Point, Rainier and different points on the river.

On the arrival of the boats the train will start.

At Chehalis there will be a picnic dinner, a barbacue and refreshments in booths and stands.

After dinner an oration by N H Bloomfield Esq, Kalama, reading the Declaration of Independence, regular toasts and volunteer toasts, music, singing and dancing. In the evening on the return of the train to Kalama there will be a grand display of fire works, etc, and a grand ball.

The cars are being fitted up expressly for the occasion to seat 1 000 persons comfortable.

The committee are using every possible effort to make this our national holiday one long to be remembered, sparing neither expense nor pains and working with a zeal worthy of such a cause.

Minute guns will be fired at sunrise, a salute to each boat as it arrives, on the departure of the train at all railroad stations etc. The bands will discourse music at all stations and at intervals during the day.

All are cordially invited to come and unite with us in celebrating this national festival.

D W TREAT, Manager.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S COMPETITORS

This is the title suggested by the annexed editorial note from the New York Times of the 13th inst:

There must be more than one distinguished gentleman at this moment in and out of Congress who watches with secret dismay the success of the President's financial flank movement. They see that almost everywhere the President is receiving kudos—even the Liberals think he is a very nice sort of a man after all, not quite such a fool as they called him in 1872. He appears to know better than some people how to steer. Yet the same opportunity was open to others besides the President. We took the liberty last fall of forewarning our respected leaders that if they lacked the courage to deal properly with the financial question they would find themselves in a very unpleasant position toward the summer of 1874. And now here they are—up a tree. We could point out without much difficulty half a dozen members of Congress who are by no means in so good a position for the great contest of 1876 as they were (or thought they were) a few months ago. They have played unintentionally into the hands of the President and as we had occasion to remind Horace Greeley's followers two years ago, people who take Gen Grant for a simpleton don't quite know the kind of man they have to deal with. He is now the only prominent man in the Republican Party who is making any headway. And how do our distinguished friends in Congress like that? Do they still fancy that a private barrel-organ or two will enable them to recover their lost ground?

To Make Boys Good Farmers.—The American Agriculturist says: Induce them to take an interest in the farm, in the implements, in the stock; tell them all your plans, your success and failures, give them a history of your life and what you did and how you lived when a boy, but do not harp much on the degenerate character of young men of the present age; praise them when you can and encourage them to do still better. Let them dress up in the evening instead of sitting down in their dirty clothes in a dirty room. Provide plenty of light. Thanks to kerosene our country homes can be as brilliantly lighted as the gas-lit residence in the city. Encourage the neighbors to drop in evenings. Talk agriculture rather than politics; speak of the importance of large crops, of good stock, of liberal feeding, and of the advantage of making animals comfortable, rather than of hard times, low prices and high wages. Above all encourage the boys to read good agricultural books. Papers are well enough but an intelligent boy wants something more. Get him some good agricultural book to study. Read it with him and give him the benefit of your experience and criticism. When he has mastered this give him another. In our case we owe our love for farming principally to the fact that our father told us everything he was doing on the farm, answering all the questions and encouraging rather than refusing our childlike desire of helping him to plow, to chop, to let off water and fire the brush heap.

Gambetta's Assailant in Prison.—It would seem that the French authorities are inclined to discourage the kind of blackguardism which seeks to suppress criticisms by violence. By cable we learn that the man who assaulted Gambetta has been sent to prison for six months. This is indeed an excellent lesson for the swashbucklers who devote their lives to acquiring a skill in fence which enables them to become dangerous to men who have not time to learn the bravo's trade. We are glad that Gambetta had sufficient sense not to elevate the Bonapartist bully into consequence by consenting to fight him. The republican leader's life does not belong to him but to his party and ought not to be exposed to the chances of a duel. There can be no doubt that the Bonapartist faction simply used Count St Croix as a tool to remove the fiery Deputy from their path. The tendency towards this species of political murder has however received a check in the well merited punishment visited on St Croix. The act of this man might have had most serious results for France because a riot in the streets of Paris in the present temper of the people might easily lead to civil war. In handing him over to the action of the tribunals the republican leader showed more common sense than most of his countrymen would have exhibited under similar circumstances.

OREGON

The Vieuxtemps Bros are swindling the citizens of Southern Oregon this summer.

The next session of the Oregon Institute for the Blind commences the 14th of September.

An attempt was made Saturday night last to burglarize Mrs Hines residence in East Salem.

Mr Frank Bewley has been selected to read the Declaration of Independence at Silverton.

There are two daily and twenty six weekly newspapers kept on file at the State Library rooms.

Salem people are hanging cow bells in their cherry trees. Rough on the hoodlums, who take night time to fill up with that luscious fruit.

Ben Blanton was taken to the penitentiary on the 22d inst, where he will take up his residence for the ensuing twelve months. He was escorted thither by Sheriff Scott of Salem.

Mrs Addie L Ballou, a celebrated Spiritualist from the Eastern States has arrived in Oregon and will be present at the camp meeting to be held near Rock Island, [illegible] commencing on the 25th inst.

Postmaster T B Rickey of Salem has received a note from Antona Bandlergoon, Kansas City, asking for information of one Prosper Laprente who was known to have resided in Salem some fifteen years ago.

On Tuesday the 23d Sheriff Caywood of Multnomah county having in charge one H H Danforth convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary, safely arrived at Salem, and turned his pet over to the tender care of Sweet William.

The Salem Statesman of the 23d says: "Jim Parrott stoutly avers that some unknown man fired two shots at him last Saturday evening while he was engaged in the laudable enterprise of driving up the cows. Mr Parrott justly faileth to appreciate such familiarity on the part of a stranger to whom he has not even had the pleasure of an introduction."

Mr John Minto writes to the Salem Record under date of June 14th: The Santiam road party after being delayed by the heavy rains of Saturday, Sunday and Monday the 7th, 8th and 9th inst, commenced active operations from Smith's ferry on the Quartzville road on Tuesday, and have now worked up nearly opposite Henness, at which point we are about 35 miles from Salem. The road so far is laid over good ground and less in distance by meandering than was expected by the viewers.

The Salem Record of the 23d inst says: Sheriff Poindexter of Lane county came down to-day after the Spaniard arrested yesterday at the cars by Sheriff Scott. That individual, on Sunday evening last, undertook to carve a slice off from the side of W W Piper's head, with whom he had some trouble, but only succeeded in inflicting an ugly but not dangerous wound. Mr Piper is well known here as the architect of the new Court House. Sheriff Poindexter returns with his prisoner to-morrow.

THE TERRITORIES

C W Moore, Cashier of the First National Bank of Idaho, has been appointed Centennial Commissioner for Idaho.

A new city is springing up on the Jefferson river, Montana, consequent on the recent mining developments there.

The Denver News of June 17th says another lot of eight emigrant wagons passed through Denver yesterday, from Kansas en route to Oregon.

Mining prospects in Idaho are quite flattering, the snow going off gradually, furnishing an abundance of water, which the miners are making good use of.

The Salt Lake Tribune, speaking of its Mormon contemporaries says they make prevarication an article of merchandise. They are mendacity in perpetual motion.

The Idaho Statesman of the 20th says: "The Trustees of the M E Church have resolved to build a brick church edifice 38 by 50 feet and 18 feet between the floors, with belfry and spire to correspond. The building will cost $5 000."

The Olympia Courier of the 22d inst, says: "The continual wet weather has already damaged the hay crop in the river bottoms very materially by breaking it down. The grain crop will also suffer should we not soon have sunshine."

The Courier of the 23d says: Messrs Jerry Borst of Snoqualmie and William Pickering of Squak in King county came up to-day. From them we learn that an old and much respected resident of King county named Jacob Schwartz was drowned last Saturday in Lake Kitcheles beyond the summit of the Cascade mountains, in the Snoqualmie Pass. He and another man was going over the mountains on horseback to buy cattle. The horse of the deceased while he was crossing a rocky point that came down to the brink of the lake slipped and he and his rider fell into the water. Mr Schwartz had some $1 500 in gold on his person besides a heavy revolver, and sunk immediately. His companion could not do any thing to save him or find the body, so he returned to Seattle and a party started out this morning prepared to drag the lake and recover the body.

VANCOUVER ITEMS

A party have chartered the Vancouver for a trip to Portland to hear the "Minstrels" on Thursday [illegible]. A large number of tickets have been sold.

A party are making arrangements for a trip to Mt Hood some time during the summer—probably in the latter part of July.

The public schools have just closed for the summer vacation. Prof Curtis and sister, to the regret of their many friends here, leave soon to take charge of a school at Umpqua.

St Luke's School closes the present term on Tuesday next. There will be a public examination on that day to which all who are interested in education are invited.

The Grangers held a general meeting on Mill Plain last Saturday, in which it was decided to join in the celebration at Vancouver.

On Saturday evening a general meeting composed of committees from the various organizations of the county met in Vancouver to make arrangements for the celebration of the coming Independence Day. The following named persons were elected to serve as officers of the day and occasion: President, Hon A G Tripp; Vice President, H N Kress; Marshal, G W Durgin; Chaplain, Rev J W Miller; Reader, Chas Brown; Orator, Rev A S Nicholson. Committee of Arrangements—A A Schaeben, M Wintler, G H Steward, Jacob Proebstel, W M Knapp, Milton Douthit and Jesse Holbrook.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE GRANGE

The Pennsylvania State Grange of Patrons of Husbandry adjourned on June 12th after a protracted and interesting session. A correspondent says:

Over 500 Patrons were in attendance. The closing resolutions appealed to agriculturists everywhere in the State to learn the objects of the movement from reliable sources without delay and if favorable to show the principles practically at an early day. Amendments to the Constitution of the National Grange were in the main ratified. The Master's closing address congratulated the Patrons present upon the marvelous growth of the Order in Pennsylvania, as well as in other States. He admonished the members to remain true to principle, a part of true manhood invariably, and to guard well their rights, at the same time remembering that all others have rights as well as themselves. It was predicted by the National Lecturer present that Pennsylvania would have 1 000 Granges next January, with a membership of over $50,000. One county in the State already had forty Granges with a membership of nearly 4,000, and the same county had but one Grange with less than 100 members on the 1st of January.

REGISTRY LAW—WHAT SHOULD IT PROVIDE?

Following what we have said in regard to the necessity of a law for the registration of voters some suggestions as to the details of such a law will be considered proper The object of all such legislation is to secure fairness in the popular elections When this is secured the law is perfect, when it is not secured there is occasion for further effort

Fairness in elections implies such conveniences as will allow every man entitled by law to vote an opportunity to express his will by his ballot without coercion or intimidation and such restrictions as will effectually shut out from the polls all manner of illegal voting whether by persons not entitled or by those who being entitled to vote once attempt the crime of repeating The first of the requisites the provisions of conveniences for every man to vote untrammeled who has the legal right to vote, is pretty well secured by the law as it stands at present The secret ballot by greatly expediting the reception of votes and by making it impossible for any man's ballot to be inspected or distinguished from the others without his consent gives every voter a fair opportunity But the safeguards against fraudulent voting, amount to almost nothing at all A good registration law as a supplement to our present statute, would probably meet the case as effectually as it could be met What should such a law contain?

At first this question appears very simple indeed The answer at once suggested is, that it should provide that every voter, a certain time before the day of the election should have his name with the county and precinct of his residence registered in a book to be provided for that purpose, and that none should vote whose name was not found thus registered But what is to be done with those cases where the voter wishes to vote only for State or district officers, and therefore is not required by law to vote in the precinct where he resides The names of such voters not being found on the registry of the precinct in which they propose to vote they would be cut off from the exercise of their right of suffrage, in violation of Section 17 of Article II of the State Constitution, which provides in substance that qualified voters may vote in any county for state officers and members of Congress To meet this case, it would be necessary to make suitable provision for receiving such votes and making a record of the county and precinct in which each voter should claim to reside, such statement to be made upon oath and under the penalties of perjury if found to be false Then a reference to the registry of the county in which such voter was claimed to be registered, would settle his right to vote, and if he had voted illegally would send him to the penitentiary

The law should also be applicable to town and city elections, but in these there would be no occasion for the provision for persons voting outside their precinct or ward In some of the principal towns the demand for some stringent regulation to prevent illegal voting is scarcely less than in the general elections.

These are some of the salient points of the subject and such as could not be overlooked without rendering any registration act that might be passed practically useless

OREGON'S RAILWAY

Yesterday morning there was published a dispatch sent by Senators Kelly and Hipple and Representative Nesmith to a gentleman of this city to the effect that the bill for the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railway could not be pushed to a vote during this session of Congress We have met some persons since who seem to think this looks unfavorable to the passage of the bill It should not be so regarded The calendar will be taken up in December where it is left at this adjournment. Bills now pending do not die with the session as in the case of State Legislatures. The meeting in December is, in fact, regarded as a continuation of the present session and for the purpose of considering measures now before Congress, the interval between now and the reassembling is regarded simply as a recess It is therefore no unfavorable indication, for the bill to go over as many others will have to do till the December meeting It seems a little odd that some bills of less importance to our State should have been speeded so successfully while this one in which our people are more deeply interested than any other must keep its place so far down the calendar as to render it impossible to reach it The bills granting right to construct bridges across the Wallamet at Portland and Salem for instance, are measures which needed no very great hurrying, but somehow they have got along more rapidly than this more important measure Still doubtless the magnitude of the railway bill has had much to do with the delay At all events there is no reason to suppose it will fail for want of the support of any member of our delegation

We were shown yesterday a private dispatch from Washington, which spoke very encouragingly of the enterprise in other respects It stated that negotiations are on foot and progressing satisfactorily which it is hoped would end in the perfecting of arrangements for ample capital to build the road If such is the case the bright future of Oregon which awaits only the opening of direct communication with the Atlantic States, is near at hand

Recently an ordinance was passed by the City Council doubling the amount to be paid for liquor licenses and imposing other rigorous terms upon the traffic in spirituous liquors A question suggests itself in connection with this, namely whether license and taxation do not imply protection If the business thus taxed and restricted is in itself lawful has any one the moral or legal right to detain it or intentionally annoy the person who carries it on? We think not

A member of the Canadian Parliament named Wm MacDougall was arrested at Binghampton N Y on the 13th instant on a charge of perjury alleged to have been committed in his testimony in an important law suit

WHY NOT BURY IT?

If anything short of total disorganization could wean the Democratic masses from their party it would seem as if the last spark of attachment for it ought to have become extinct before now For six years past the leaders of the effete party have been dividing their energies and talents between endeavors to galvanize it into new life and efforts to bury it One day the organs of that respectable memory called the Democracy, tell of meetings of its leaders in which they discuss with equal gravity and wisdom what principles the party would better profess in an approaching campaign or whether it would not be most advisable not to profess any principles at all The next day it is heralded to the world that a council of political doctors has been held over the case of the moribund party, and there appeared a strong inclination to the opinion that there could be no rational hope of its recovery At the self same hour a set of its late supporters and leaders are engaged in a desperate effort to breath the breath of life into the body and another set are pressing their demand for letters of administration upon its earthly effects

What is left of the old time Democracy for a man to cling to who was a Democrat from principle? What remains of the demand for a strict construction of the Constitution? What is there in the Democratic platforms of the present day about the limitations of Federal power and the line of demarkation between State and National authority? What have we of the "White Man's Government?" How many of the party agree upon the tariff question? In a word, what is there of the old, stern, uncompromising Democracy in the Democracy of to-day? Not so much as a shadow Every vestige of it has gone and manifestly gone for ever

While we write this there lies before us a Chicago paper containing the account of a meeting of some of the acknowledged heads of the party in that city, to discuss the question whether it were best to attempt a rehabilitation of the party or to abandon it altogether Such a discussion was impossible so long as there was any living issue for the party to stand upon When they who have built up and sustained a great political party, meet together to consult as to whether it ought not to be buried out of sight, it is certain that party is, for all useful purposes dead Without definitive principles, without solidity of organization, without purposes beyond the securing of spoils to the few who manipulate it, without a remnant of any of the elements that made it strong in the affections of its masses and grand in the traditions of national politics what is there now to tie the people to its name Positively nothing No wonder they are everywhere cutting loose and entering into alliance with those who agitate the vital questions of the time The wonder is that any should remain except the politicians who make gain or fame by manipulating affairs in their own interests

THE WAY TO CURE A CORRUPT PARTY

The New York Times, by far the ablest and greatest of all the Republican organs at the East takes the same view of the best method of remedying political scoundrelism which the independent Republicans of Oregon have been employing The Times of the 14th inst says editorially

We find some encouraging signs that the Republicans in the South are becoming tired of that subserviency to scheming politicians which has brought affairs in that portion of the country to such a disgraceful condition The only open rebellion thus far however is in New Hanover county North Carolina where an energetic protest has been entered against the nominations made for county officers as entirely unfit for these important trusts It is further declared that these officers if elected will bring upon the Republican party in the end, disgrace and defeat Many good Republicans have united to defeat the ticket which is thus branded and whatever may be the real merits of this particular case, this symptom of independence in political action should be encouraged It may not be of much consequence which party in the South has the local offices but it is of great importance that the Republican party shall be rid of the scoundrels who have used it for corrupt purposes and have done so much to bring it into disrepute This can only be done by such movements as that in North Carolina of the voters against the leaders

The Peruvian Government is undergoing its regular revolution Col Salas at the head of the revolt lately besieged Cuzco the ancient Capital of the State but was forced to retire before the army of the Prefect At last accounts the Prefect was pursuing the rebellious chieftain

La Dow (Dem) beats Williams (Rep) for Congress 302 votes Chadwick (Dem) beats Foster (Rep) 2 504 votes A H Brown (Dem) beats D G Clark (Rep) 118 votes; Rowland (Rep) beats Thooky deeds Dawne (Dem) 40 votes

THE CURRENCY COMPROMISE.

We find in the San Francisco Chronicle a Washington dispatch of 20th instant which says

In the House to-day Mr Dawes from the Conference Committee on the Currency bill submitted the report of said committee which was read He explained the provisions of the report and said it was the best that could be agreed upon and regretted that there was nothing in the bill looking to an early resumption of specie payments The committee did not believe the two Houses could be brought to this agreement But the matter which seemed to some not only demanded by public faith but also seemed easy of accomplishment Congress had found unable to regulate through two Houses or in two Conference Committees he could not hesitate to tell that a maximum issue of greenbacks was something gained The maximum is fixed at $382 000 000, and it is required to be kept in circulation, instead of having part of it kept reserve in the Treasury to be shut out or drawn The second feature of the bill was equally important It was that there should be no further increase of national bank currency therefore the country would know so far as this Congress was concerned that the whole volume of National Bank currency was capable of being ascertained He proceeded to explain other provisions of the report

Mr Hawley declared that as a New England man and as the representative of the banking center, he was willing to vote for a redistribution of the currency but would not vote for a measure increasing in any way the volume of irredeemable paper currency and postponing indefinitely the day of specie resumption

After some further discussion the report was adopted by a vote of 221 to 40

NEXT!

Louisiana Texas and Arkansas are not enough So we add Virginia Here is the way matters are carried on in the Old Dominion as stated by a Washington telegram of the 15th inst to the New York press

On the 11th inst nine Judges of Election were arrested in Petersburg Va on a charge of intimidating voters in the late municipal election and taken to Richmond for examination before the United States Commissioner There was much consequent excitement in that city Owing to statements to Representatives Platt and Stowell of Virginia they yesterday made application to the President to send troops there to preserve the peace Judge Harris, Representative from Virginia, called on the President to-day for the purpose of protesting in the name of the people against military interference in that State and says [illegible] that as good order prevailed in Petersburg, as in any other city of the Union But the President being absent from the city he went to the office of the Attorney General who furnished him with a copy of a telegram addressed by Attorney General Williams to United States Marshal Ramsdell Petersburg as follows

You are instructed to take the necessary steps to protect the property of the United States from injury and the officers of the Government in Petersburg from any violent interference with them in the performance of their official duties and to that end if you think proper you may summon a posse of the citizens to aid you but if these men are found inadequate for the purpose you will be furnished upon a call made by you upon me with troops from Fortress Monroe It is desirable not to use troops if possible

This is from Edward Everett "To read the English language well to write with dispatch a neat legible hand and be master of the first four rules of arithmetic so as to dispose of at once, with accuracy every question of figures which comes up in practice—I call this a good education And if you add the ability to write pure grammatical English I regard it as an excellent education These are the tools You can do much with them They are the foundation and unless you begin with these all your flashy attainments, a little geology and all other ologies and osophies are ostentatious rubbish

Salt Lake City has been visited by an earthquake recently The Tribune of the 19th inst says the shock was violent acting in the direction of west to east and continuing for some five or six seconds The force of the vibration was such that buildings trembled perceptibly and such light articles as crockery and glassware rattled unpleasantly on their shelves

CITY.

ALMOST READY —For many long weeks the sound of the hammer has been ringing on the boiler and steam drum of the tug Astoria. At length the skill and ingenuity of the boiler maker has triumphed over the ravages and corrosions of fire and water. Its rents have been patched with inflexible plates of iron, its weak points securely strengthened by the addition of new material and its old and well worn burnt out tubes torn away and and replaced with new. Weeks ago this huge boiler was hoisted from the hold of the tug and rolled on the wharf in a badly damaged if not positively unsafe condition. Only a few days ago, thoroughly overhauled and repaired the boiler was placed back in the hull of the craft, for which it has long furnished the motive power to drive against the fury of wind and wave and to handle with ease and safety the largest ships that have yet frequented our waters. In the general overhauling of affairs, the old and inadequate steam drum was detached from the boiler and abandoned. Another new and larger drum has been made, and now surmounts the boiler. Nor have the repairs been confined exclusive to the boiler. Meantime the hull of the tug was beached, recaulked and repainted. The machinery and steam connections have all undergone the critical inspection of the engineer and wherever necessary thorough repairs were made. Since the boiler was placed in the hull a new cabin has been constructed which is a decided improvement over the old one. All that now remains to be done is to add a few finishing touches. Steam will be raised in a few days, and the tug will be off for the sounding sea. Among experienced engineers there is no question but what the Astoria in the essential elements of power, safety and seaworthiness, is now equal to almost any seagoing craft.

COLLECTION OF RAILWAY DEBTS.—Following is the text of the bill passed by Congress for the enforcement of the rights of the Government against the Pacific Railway Companies:

That the Secretary of the Treasury be and hereby is directed to require payment of the named companies, their successors and assigns or the successors or assigns of any or either of said companies of all sums of money due or to become due the United States for the five per centum of the net earnings provided for by the act entitled "An act to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Missouri river to the Pacific ocean and to secure to the Government the use of the same for postal, military, and other purposes, approved July 1 1862 or by any other act or acts in relation to the companies therein named, or any other such company or companies, and in case either of such railroad companies shall neglect or refuse to pay the same within sixty days after demand therefor made upon the treasurer of such railroad company, the Secretary of the Treasury shall certify that fact to the Attorney General, who shall thereupon institute the necessary suits and proceedings to collect and otherwise obtain redress in respect of the same in the proper Circuit Courts of the United States, and prosecute the same with all convenient dispatch to a final termination.

HORSE TRAINING.—Mr R H Tapp the well known horse trainer, will subdue a fiery and untamed equine to-day at his training room on Yamhill between First and Second streets. Doors will open at 12.30 and close promptly at 1 o'clock. The animal upon which Mr Tapp will exercise his superior system of training is a horse brought from Lewis river, Washington Territory. This horse enjoys the reputation of being one of the most vicious and fiendish brutes which can be found in the country. Some time since an ineffectual attempt was made to break the horse. After the greatest difficulty he was caught and a saddle placed on his back. The man who had the temerity to mount the steed was thrown off by the violent "bucking" and kicking. When once from under the control of the rider, the horse made good its escape to the mountains. Ten days elapsed before a glimpse was caught of the animal, and when at last the brute was captured it was found that the bridle saddle and rigging were all lost. Since that time no effort has been made to subdue the vicious brute. Hearing of the fame of our friend Tapp the owner determined to try his skill upon it, confident that he can make the animal knock under in twenty minutes and the question will be settled to-day.

STEAMER WELCOME.—The steamer Welcome, a portion of the cabin, the boiler, engines and machinery of the old Fannie Troup having been used in the construction of which, now in the bone-yard, is rapidly approximating the finishing strokes. Painters are busily engaged plying the brush, carpenters are adding the "extras," and machinists are adjusting bolts and screws, and making the steam attachments perfect. By the middle or latter part of next week, the Welcome will be ready to make her maiden effort. She is a staunch and neatly built little craft and can [illegible] be an important acquisition to the [illegible] in furnishing superior transportation facilities.

A VERDICT RENDERED.—In the case of Squires [illegible], tried in the Circuit Court on Tuesday, the jury has rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The case was submitted to the jury late Wednesday afternoon, and after nearly twelve hours' deliberation a verdict was agreed upon. This is a civil case instituted to recover personal property. Great attention was bestowed upon the action, and the case was very carefully and thoroughly tried before Judge Upton. At the last term of court the case was tried, but resulted in an irreconcilable disagreement of the jury. The cause of action arose last year in Tillamook county.

FIRST CLASS ARTISTES.—At the grand vocal and instrumental concert which will be given this afternoon at Masonic Hall for charitable [illegible], those superb balladists W F Baker and J. G Russell will appear and favor the [illegible] with some musical selections. Mr [illegible] will sing that exquisitely beautiful ballad, "Come into the Garden, Maud," and Mr Russell will render in his accustomed artistic manner "You and I." We cannot omit to [illegible] in this connection that Messrs Baker and Russell are musical geniuses finished artistes in their line, and whether on or off the stage, are polished and engaging gentlemen.

PILES DRIVEN.—Pile driving at the foot of J street, East Portland—is completed. Advantage was taken of the present high stage of water, and quick work performed by the pile driver, the whole job being completed within one day. Carpenters will soon begin work and within the next ten days, the apron at the foot of that street will be finished, to the great convenience of the public.

CASE OF R. GIBBENS.—On the convening of the Circuit Court this morning sentence will be passed upon Robert Gibbens convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of [illegible]. At the same time the Court will hear the argument of counsel on the motion for a new trial, which has been filed by the counsel for the defendant, Mr. Caples.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The public schools of the city will close the present school year on Friday, July 3d. The usual examination of classes will be held during the week. A vacation of five or six weeks will be given to enable the pupils and tutors an opportunity of recuperating preparatory to entering upon the studies and labors of another school year.

ARRIVED.—The Cambridge of the Star Line of packets, from San Francisco, arrived at her dock yesterday morning about 8 o clock with a full cargo of assorted merchandise. She has already secured a full cargo for the return trip and will sail about Wednesday next.

EXCURSION TRIP.—This evening the steamer [illegible] will make a special trip to this city. The object of this trip is to afford the public of Vancouver an opportunity of visiting Portland in the evening to witness the performance of the Minstrels.

AMUSEMENTS.

Commencing this afternoon at 2 o clock a grand vocal and instrumental concert will be given at Masonic Hall. The object of this concert will be to aid the following charitable institutions: First Hebrew Benevolent Society, Good Samaritan Hospital and the Catholic Orphan Asylum. The net proceeds of this concert will be divided equally among these institutions. On this occasion a bill of rare excellence will be presented to the public. It promises a musical treat such as is seldom afforded our citizens. Messrs Baker Russell Murphy Knight Schriener and Bodecker of McGuire's Minstrel Troupe, have kindly volunteered their services; also the City Band and Prof Gans Finck and Brenner. The programme will consist of several overtures by the City Band, violin solo by Prof Schriener, overtures, duets and solos on the piano by Prof's Bodecker Gans Finck and Brenner, vocal solo by those superb balladists W F Baker and J G Russell, a recitation (in Dutch) by Mr Geo S Knight, recitation by Tom T Murphy and other no less entertaining performers. That finished pianist and musical composer Prof Bodecker will favor the audience with a piano solo which will be performed in his usual masterly style. Such another programme has not been offered for years and it is wholly needless to add that this public will not be wanting in bestowing deserved patronage. Remember every dollar of the net proceeds will be donated to the alleviation of sickness and want in our midst. Certainly a most praiseworthy object.

We have to repeat again that Oro Fino Theater was crowded upon the occasion of the sixth appearance of Maguire's Minstrels, last evening. Each change of programme is an improvement and the one presented on Wednesday evening was decidedly the best yet offered. In addition to an excellent First Part, in which Baker, Russell, Harley and Murphy rendered several beautiful ballads with fine effect, Sweatnam and Reed sang comic songs, cracked rich jokes and made themselves the observed of all observers. A medley of songs brought the First Part to a conclusion and quickly following came Bobby Newcomb in his poetical movements. He came out several times—at each appearance giving something new and pleasing in song and dance. Knight who has become a great favorite sang several songs in the German dialect at each recall appearing in change. His performance on the harmonicon and brief speeches had the effect of creating rounds of applause. Welch and Rice were enthusiastically received in their new act "The O'Shannessy Guards" and encores brought them out in two changes, each of which was entirely new and satisfactory. Billy Sweatnam was exceedingly funny in the act called "Wanted a Nurse." Little Mac, Newcomb, Welch and Rice appeared next as the "Four Spaniards"—the little trump card of the company being the interesting figure in the comical quartette. "Forty Winks" was the closing farce in which Billy Sweatnam was the victim of misplaced confidence. His position was a trying one, and the situations were truly ludicrous in the extreme. As we have said, the bill of last night was the best presented, a portion of which in addition to several new acts, will be rendered to night. The Minstrels are a complete success. Enterprise and artistic performances will always win in Portland. Evidences of this have been shown at the Oro Fino Theater the past five nights and Saturday matinee.

Don't forget to night. And, by the way Little Mac is up for a benefit on Friday evening. For the first time he will introduce his "Baby Elephant," do his monkey act, and dance an Essence. Of course, the house will be filled.

BASE BALL.

The largest attendance on the Academy grounds to witness a base ball game was that of yesterday. Nobody expected to see a brilliant game but the fact that Little Mac and his associates in the Minstrel party were to play, was sufficient to draw. The game was a one sided affair and consequently is not deserving of an extended mention. In their suits of dark blue the Arcadians presented an attractive appearance. They did not present their full nine—Gearin and Speck lending a helping hand. At three o clock the game was called by John Harned, who had been selected umpire. The Minstrel club were first to the bat and out they went in one, two, three order. Not until the fifth inning did they manage to get a run and Little Mac is entitled to the credit for that—his strike past second base enabling Rice to run in from third. The general play on both sides was not worthy of mention. Reed, Rice Welch and Knight, of the Minstrel Club are credited with the best general playing for that nine. Little Mac was unfortunate in his batting, and when he did make a strike a fleet-footed chap of his nine did the running for him. The Arcadians played much better than they did on Saturday last, their misplays being occasioned on account of a lack of desire to run up too large a score. Of the six runs made by the Minstrel Club, Rice and Welch are credited with two each, and Reed and Little Mac one each. The umpire gave some pretty close decisions but these are attributable to various causes. Appended is the score:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Minstrels	0	0	0	0	1	1	3	1	0	6
Arcadians	3	6	1	5	1	3	8	9	10	46

The Arcadians play the College Club of Salem upon their arrival at Salem to-day—about 11.30 A. M.

THE STAGE.

Joe Murphy was playing "Help" at Fort Russell Colorado.

Jim Vinson was running the Salt Lake Theater when last heard from.

Vivian and his company were at Crescent City a few weeks ago—heading southward.

Madame Phelps and Company performed last evening at Albany. This evening the Company will appear at Corvallis.

Bob Fulford and the Rosedale Troupe were peregrinating through Idaho at last accounts. This was about one month ago. Where the members of the Company now are deponent sayeth not.

Stephen Massett so 'tis said, actually proposes to shake California dust (not gold) from his restless soles and flit to other climes. We are uncharitable enough to suspect that the public will concur.

Master J W McKenzie the young baritone singer who came here last fall with Vivian recently gave a concert to the inmates of the city jail in San Francisco assisted by several well known vocalists.

Prof Plummer (not Dr O P S) was somewhere in the mountainous wilds of Idaho at the latest accounts. Some exchange has slandered Yankee by insinuating that he has become a menial yeoman that he has actually purchased a ranch and proposes soon to join the Grangers. The Professor knows too well how to tickle the ribs of his audience to make poultry raising a success.

BALLS AND PARTIES.

Under the auspices of the East Portland Band a grand military and civic ball will be given at Ankeny's Hall on the evening of July 3d.

Last evening the City Rifle Armory was the scene of a very pleasant social gathering in the shape of a surprise party. Just at the close of the usual weekly drill, and when the boys were least expectant of such an event a crowd of young ladies, accompanied by several musicians unceremoniously appeared in the hall and signified by their actions that they came to stay. With that degree of gallantry for which the members of the company are proverbial the young gentlemen capitulated with out conditions and the fair belligerents won the day without a contest. Immediately there was a general clearing away, a vigorous tuning up of musical instruments and soon the cry was heard "take your partners for a quadrille." Dancing once started continued for several hours. It was a pleasant surprise to the members of the company and the affair was highly enjoyed by all the participants.

I. L. T. A.—Our reporter has interviewed some of the members of the Ladies Temperance Alliance which so quietly placed its ministerly petition before the Common Council. Its members are sustained by a large following in this city, although only a few names were appended to the petition as published in our columns. Many of its members are veterans in the cause and hundreds of names could have been added. There are many workers and different bands, in the same field. The measure of success achieved excites their hopes and stimulates their efforts.

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

We are in receipt of the following letter from San Francisco in relation to the second International Exhibition of Chili South America, which will be held at Santiago on the 16th of September 1875. The writer says:

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Sir: I have the honor of sending you a circular containing the chief part of the bulletin just published by the Executive Committee of the second International Exhibition of the Republic of Chili to be held at Santiago on the 16th of September 1875.

Fairs or Exhibitions general or local are among the most powerful means employed by modern civilization for the purpose of bringing the people of various countries together and of promoting their advancement by the means of the interchange of ideas and of products thus secured. This Republic (Chili) which does not omit any measure to strengthen its ties with the States of the Continent is now preparing one of these grand civilizing Fairs and calls the attention of the world to the fact and especially America whose noble emulation we desire to excite.

In order to correctly estimate ourselves we young countries need to come together to know each other to measure and compare our productive forces and our state of culture.

By this means only will we be able to lend mutual aid and to accelerate the march of progress which we are making together.

By the programme and regulations of the forthcoming International Exhibition a copy of which I herewith send you, you will be able to inform yourself of its objects and of its organization. They will also enable you to appreciate the sentiments which inspire Chili to solicit your cooperation which are simply that she desires the citizens of this country to contribute to the proper representation in this exposition of this country's rich natural products and of its advancement in arts and in industries. Yours respectfully

F 2º CASANUEVA

HOW TO BUY A HORSE.

ADVICE FROM "ADIRONDACK MURRAY"

From the advance sheets of the Rev W H Murray's new book on The Horse, we extract the following:

Be sure that the horse you purchase has symmetry viz is well proportioned throughout. Never purchase a horse because he has a splendid development of one part of his organization if he be lacking in any other. Above all, keep well in mind what you are buying for and buy the horse best adapted to the work you will require of him, and when such an animal is yours be content. Never jockey. An occasional exchange may be allowable but this daily swapping of horses advertises a man's incompetency for anything higher. Another caution is this: never purchase a horse until you have seen him move and under the same conditions to which he will be exposed in the service you will expect of him. If for a draft see him draw, back and turn round in both directions; if for the road see how he handles himself not merely on level ground but going up sharp declivities and above all in descending these. In this way you will ascertain the faults or excellencies of both his temper and structure.

In these exercises drive him yourself. The reins in a skillful hand guided by the whip or mouth can be made to conceal grave defects. Let him move with a loose rein so that he may take his natural gait, and not his artificial, for by so doing you will detect any mistake of judgment you may have made when looking him over in a state of activity. Many a time unsoundness will appear in motion which no inspection of the eye and finger however close can ascertain. When you have walked him and jogged him if he is to serve any other than mere draft purposes put him to his speed and keep him at it for a sufficient distance to test his breathing capacity, then pull him up, jump from the wagon and look at his flanks, inspect his nostrils and put your ear close to the side of his chest in order to ascertain if the action of the heart is normal. If this exercise has caused him to perspire freely all the better, for you can then see when you take him back to the stable whether he "dries off" quickly as all horses do in perfect health.

For Fine and Artistic Photographs go to Buchtel & Stolte 91 and 93 First Street, the only First Class Gallery in the State.

Everything is quiet once more, the election excitement being over and people can now avail themselves of the opportunity to buy their summer suits of clothing, the times being such as to warrant a general reduction in prices. Beck & Waldman are awake to the necessities of the hour, and propose to offer their customers and others a splendid chance to come out in a new rig. Their stock is complete in every respect. Boys Clothing a specialty. Bear that in mind.

The triangular fight for Governor and other State officers is over and the returns are coming in. Some think the result will be in favor of the Democratic ticket and vice versa, but it is certain that FISHEL & ROBERTS are leading in the race for supremacy in their particular line of business. This popular Clothing House is now filled in every department with the latest fashions and they are offering great bargains, though that is generally understood by all who know the firm. Leave your measure and we assure you that satisfaction will be given in every instance.

A GEM !!

A precious stone lay unobserved,
Its worth still not to e'en be guessed,
Nor e'er gave thee its meed deserved
Because it was not well dressed.

A man in tattered garments clothed,
With kindest heart within his breast,
By ignorance and pride is loathed
Because he is not better dressed.

Then gentlemen a warning take
By such examples here expressed
And hurry, ere it be too late,
To JOSEPH KOHN'S and get well dressed.

Stars and Meteors

At certain seasons meteors dart across the firmament between the earth and the fixed stars. But they quickly vanish while the fixed stars remain. In the medical firmament the great vegetable invigorant Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has long been a fixed star of the first magnitude. Little meteors in the shape of imitations bearing various names now and then attempt to gain a place in competition with it, but they soon disappear from the field of vision, leaving the glory of the [illegible] undimmed. The number of these will-o'-the-wisps that have come to grief within the last fifteen years is beyond computation, and those now in existence will [illegible] the antagonist of extinguishment. The standard tonic and alterative that cures dyspepsia, arrests many distressing disorders and which no debilitated invalid ever took without receiving a wonderful accession of strength and vitality, daily derives increased popularity from the attempts of charlatans to ruin their failures in the [illegible] letter groove.

AS THE LIVER is easily disordered, and a great deal of Bilious Distress apt to prevail during the spring, Dr Jayne's Sanative Pills are of sanable efficacy, as they restore the Liver to healthy action and remove all Biliousness.

J H A Reviere, importer and dealer in Human Hair and practical Wig Maker and Hair Worker, has just returned from France with the fine and largest stock of Human Hair ever brought to this market and is now ready to dispose of it at very low prices at his new store corner of Third and Alder streets directly opposite the Post Office. Sir—Having first applied to a number of home physicians and failed to get relief I resolved to try your Remedy. Four bottles have completely cured me of one of the worst cases of Catarrh of which I have any knowledge, having suffered for months with an acute pain in the head and breathed only with the greatest difficulty. I deem it due you as well as suffering humanity that this recognition be made of what we deem an invaluable medicine.

THURSDAY MORNING JUNE 25 1874.

CITY.

ALMOST READY.—For many long weeks the sound of the hammer has been ringing on the boiler and steam drum of the tug Astoria. At length the skill and ingenuity of the boiler maker has triumphed over the ravages and corrosions of fire and water. Its rents have been patched with inflexible plates of iron, its weak points securely strengthened by the addition of new material and its old and well nigh burnt out tubes torn away and and replaced with new. Weeks ago this huge boiler was lifted from the hold of the tug and rolled on the wharf in a badly damaged, if not a positively unsafe condition. Only a few days ago, thoroughly overhauled and repaired, the boiler was placed back in the hull of the craft, for which it has long furnished the motive power to drive against the fury of wind and wave and to handle with ease and safety the largest ships that have yet frequented our waters. In the general overhauling of all its affairs, the old and inadequate steam drum was detached from the boiler and abandoned. Another new and larger drum has been made, and now surmounts the boiler. Nor have the repairs been confined exclusively to the boiler. Meantime the hull of the tug has been recaulked and repainted. The machinery and steam connections have all undergone the critical inspection of the engineer and wherever necessary thorough repairs made. Since the boiler was placed in the hull, a new cabin has been constructed which is a decided improvement over the old one. All that now remains to be done is to add a few finishing touches. Steam will be raised in a few days, and the tug will be off for the sounding sea." Among experienced engineers there is no question but what the Astoria has the essential elements of power, safety and seaworthiness, is now equal to almost any emergency.

COLLECTION OF RAILWAY DEBTS.—Following is the text of the bill passed by Congress for the enforcement of the rights of the Government against the Pacific Railway Companies:

That the Secretary of the Treasury be and hereby is directed to require payment of the railroad companies, their successors and assigns, the successors or assigns of any or either of said companies, of all sums of money due or to become due the United States for the five per centum of the net earnings provided for by the act entitled "An act to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Missouri river to the Pacific ocean, and to secure to the Government the use of the same for postal, military, and other purposes, approved July 1 1862, or by any other act or acts in relation to the companies therein named, or any other such company or companies, and in case either of such railroad companies shall neglect or refuse to pay the same within sixty days after demand therefor made upon the treasurer of such railroad company, the Secretary of the Treasury shall certify that fact to the Attorney General who shall thereupon institute the necessary suits and proceedings to collect and otherwise obtain redress in respect of the same in the proper circuit Courts of the United States, and prosecute the same with all convenient dispatch to a final termination.

HORSE TRAINING.—Mr R. H Tapp, the well known horse trainer, will subdue a fiery and untamed equine to-day at his training room on Yamhill between First and Second streets. Doors will open at 12.30 and close promptly at 1 o clock. The animal upon which Mr Tapp will exercise his superior system of training is a horse brought from Lewis river, Washington Territory. This horse enjoys the reputation of being one of the most vicious and incorrigible brutes which can be found in the country. Some time since an ineffectual attempt was made to break the horse. After the greatest difficulty he was caught and a saddle placed on his back. The men who had the temerity to mount the steed was thrown off by the violent "bucking" and kicking. When once from under the control of the rider, the horse made good its escape to the mountains. Ten days elapsed before a glimpse was caught of the animal, and when at last the brute was captured it was found that the bridle saddle and rigging were all lost. Since that time no effort has been made to subdue the vicious brute. Hearing of the fame of our friend Tapp the owner determined to try his skill. Tapp is confident that he can make the animal "knock under" in twenty minutes and the question will be settled to-day.

STEAMER WELCOME.—The steamer Welcome, a portion of the cabin, the boiler engines and machinery of the old Fannie Troup having been used in the construction of which, now in the bone-yard, is rapidly approximating the finishing strokes. Painters are busily engaged in plying the brush, carpenters are adding the "fixtures," and machinists are adjusting bolts and screws, and making the steam attachments perfect. By the middle or latter part of next week, the Welcome will be ready to make her maiden effort. She is a staunch compact and neatly built little craft and can not fail to be an important acquisition to the ... in furnishing superior transportation facilities.

A VERDICT RENDERED.—In the case of Squires vs. Upton, tried in the Circuit Court on Tuesday, the jury has rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The case was submitted to the jury late Wednesday afternoon, and after nearly twelve hours' deliberation a verdict was agreed upon. This is a civil case, instituted to recover personal property. Great attention has been bestowed upon the action, and the case was very carefully and thoroughly tried before Judge Upton. At the last term of court the case was tried, but resulted in an irreconcilable disagreement of the jury. The cause of action arose last year in Tillamook county.

FIRST CLASS ARTISTES.—At the grand vocal and instrumental concert which will be given this afternoon at Masonic Hall for charitable purposes, those superb balladists W. F. Baker and J. G Russell will appear and favor the audience with some musical selections. Mr Baker will sing that exquisitely beautiful ballad, "Come into the Garden, Maud," and Mr Russell will render in his accustomed artistic manner "You and I." We cannot omit to state in this connection that Messrs Baker and Russell are musical geniuses finished artists in their line and whether on or off the stage, are polished and engaging gentlemen.

PILE DRIVING.—Pile driving at the foot of J street, eastern shore—is completed. Advantage was taken of the present high stage of water, and quick work performed by the pile driver, the whole job being completed within ... days. Carpenters will soon begin work and within the next ten days, the apron at the foot of that street will be finished to the great convenience of the public.

CASE OF R. GIBBENS.—On the convening of the Circuit Court this morning sentence will be passed upon Robert Gibbens convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of Capt. T. Schoppe. At the same time the Court will hear the argument of counsel on the motion for a new trial, which has been filed by the counsel for the defendant, Mr Caples.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The public schools of the city will close the present school year on Friday, July 3d. The usual examination of classes will be held during the week. A vacation of five or six weeks will be given to enable the pupils and tutors an opportunity of recuperating preparatory to entering upon the duties and labors of another school year.

ARRIVED.—The Cambridge of the Star Line of packets, from San Francisco arrived at her dock yesterday morning about 8 o clock with a full cargo of assorted merchandise. She has already secured a full cargo for the return trip and will sail about Wednesday next.

EXTRA TRIP.—This evening the steamer ... will make a special trip to this city. The object of this trip is to afford the public of Vancouver an opportunity of visiting Portland in the evening to witness the performance of the Minstrels.

AMUSEMENTS.

Commencing this afternoon at 2 o clock a grand vocal and instrumental concert will be given at Masonic Hall. The object of this concert will be to aid the following charitable institutions: First Hebrew Benevolent Society, Good Samaritan Hospital and the Catholic Orphan Asylum. The net proceeds of this concert will be divided equally among these institutions. On this occasion a bill of rare excellence will be presented to the public. It promises a musical treat such as is seldom afforded our citizens. Messrs Baker Russell Murphy Knight Schreiner and Bodecker of McGuire's Minstrel Troupe, have kindly volunteered their services, also the City Band and Prof Gans Frank and Brenner. The programme will consist of several overtures by the City Band violin solo by Prof Schreiner overtures, duets and solos on the piano by Profs Bodecker Gans Frank and Brenner vocal solo by those superb balladists W. F. Baker and J. G Russell recitation in Dutch by Mr Geo S Knight recitation by Con T Murphy and other no less entertaining performers. That finished pianist and musical composer Prof Bodecker will favor the audience with a piano solo which will be performed in his usual masterly style. Such another programme has not been offered for years and it is wholly needless to add that this public will not be wanting in bestowing deserved patronage. Remember every dollar of the net proceeds will be donated to the alleviation of sickness and want in our midst. Certainly a most praiseworthy object.

We have to repeat again that Oro Fino Theater was crowded upon the occasion of the sixth appearance of Maguire's Minstrels last evening. Each change of programme is an improvement and the one presented on Wednesday evening was decidedly the best yet offered. In addition to an excellent first part in which Baker, Russell, Harley and Murphy rendered several beautiful ballads with fine effect, Sweatnam and Reed sang comic songs cracked rich jokes and made themselves the observed of all observers. A medley of songs brought the first Part to a conclusion and quickly following came Bobby Newcomb in his poetical movements. He came out several times—at each appearance giving something new and pleasing in song and dance. Knight, who has become a great favorite, sang several songs in the German dialect at each recall appearing in change. His performance on the harmonicon and brief speeches had the effect of creating rounds of applause. Welch and Rice were enthusiastically received in their new act "The O'Shannesy Guards" and encores brought them out in two changes each of which was entirely new and satisfactory. Billy Sweatnam was exceedingly funny in the act called "Wanted a Nurse." Little Mac Newcomb Welch and Rice appeared next as the "Four Spaniards"—the little trump-card of the company being the interesting figure in the comical quartette. "Forty Winks" was the closing farce in which Billy Sweatnam was the victim of misplaced confidence. His position was a trying one and the situations were truly ludicrous in the extreme. As we have said the bill of last night was the best presented, a portion of which in addition to several new acts will be rendered to-night. The Minstrels are a complete success. Enterprise and artistic performances will always win in Portland. Evidences of this have been shown at the Oro Fino Theater the past five nights and Saturday matinee.

Don t forget to-night. And, by the way, Little Mac is up for a benefit on Friday evening. For the first time he will introduce his Baby Elephant, do his monkey act, and dance an Essence. Of course, the house will be filled.

BASE BALL.

The largest attendance on the Academy grounds to witness a base ball game was that of yesterday. Nobody expected to see a brilliant game, but the fact that Little Mac and his associates in the Minstrel party were to play, was sufficient to draw. The game was a one-sided affair and consequently is not deserving of an extended mention. In their suits of dark blue the Arcadians presented an attractive appearance. They did not present their full nine—Gearin and Speck lending a helping hand. At three o clock the game was called by John Harned, who had been selected umpire. The Minstrel club were first to the bat and out they went in one, two, three order. Not until the fifth inning did they manage to get a run, and Little Mac is entitled to the credit for that—his strike past second base enabling Rice to run in from third. The general play on both sides was not worthy of mention. Reed, Rice Welch and Knight, of the Minstrel Club, are credited with the best general playing for that nine. Little Mac was unfortunate in his batting, and when he did make a strike a fleet-footed chap of his nine did the running for him. The Arcadians played much better than they did on Saturday last, their misplays being occasioned on account of a lack of desire to run up too large a score. Of the six runs made by the Minstrel Club, Rice and Welch are credited with two each, and Reed and Little Mac one each. The umpire gave some pretty close decisions but these are attributable to various causes. Appended is the score:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Minstrels	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	1	0	3
Arcadians	3	6	1	1	1	[illegible]	0	16	16

The Arcadians play the College Club of Salem upon their arrival at Salem to-day—about 11 30 A M.

THE STAGE.

Joe Murphy was playing "Help" at Fort Russell Colorado.

Jim Vinson was running the Salt Lake Theater when last heard from.

Vivian and his company were at Crescent City a few weeks ago—beating southward.

Madame Phelps and Company performed last evening at Albany. This evening the Company will appear at Corvallis.

Bob Lufford and the Rosedale Troupe were perigrinating through Idaho at last accounts. This was about one month ago. Where the members of the Company now are deponent sayeth not.

Stephen Massett so his said actually proposes to shake California dust (not gold) from his restless soles and flit to other climes. We are uncharitable enough to suspect that the public will concur.

Master J W McKenzie the young baritone singer who came here last fall with Vivian recently gave a concert to the inmates of the city jail in San Francisco assisted by several well known vocalists.

Prof Plummer (not Dr O P S) was somewhere in the mountainous wilds of Idaho at the latest accounts. Some exchange has slandered Yankee by insinuating that he has become a menial yeoman, that he has actually purchased a ranch and proposes soon to join the Grangers. The Professor knows too well how to tickle the ribs of his audience to make poultry raising a success.

BALLS AND PARTIES

Under the auspices of the East Portland Band a grand military and civic ball will be given at Andrey's Hall on the evening of July 3d.

Last evening the City Rifle Armory was the scene of a very pleasant social gathering in the shape of a surprise party. Just at the close of the usual weekly drill and when the boys were least expectant of such an event a crowd of young ladies, accompanied by several musicians unceremoniously appeared in the hall and signified by their actions that they came to stay. With that degree of gallantry for which the members of the company are proverbial the young gentlemen capitulated without conditions and the fair belligerents won the day without a contest. Immediately there was a general clearing away, a vigorous tuning up of musical instruments and soon the cry was heard "Take your partners for a quadrille." Dancing once started continued for several hours. It was a pleasant surprise to the members of the company and the affair was highly enjoyed by all the participants.

L T A.—Our reporter has interviewed some of the members of the Ladies Temperance Alliance which so quietly placed its masterly petition before the Common Council. Its members are sustained by a large following in this city, although only a few names were appended to the petition as published in our columns. Many of its members are veterans in the cause and hundreds of names could have been added. There are many workers, and different bands, in the same field. The measure of success achieved excites their hopes and stimulates their efforts.

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

We are in receipt of the following letter from San Francisco in relation to the second International Exhibition of Chili South America which will be held at Santiago on the 16th of September 1875. The writer is

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

Sir I have the honor of sending you a circular containing the first part of the bulletin just published by the Executive Committee of the second International Exhibition of the Republic of Chili to be held at Santiago on the 16th of September 1875.

Large exhibitions general or local are among the most powerful means employed by modern civilization for the purpose of bringing the people of various countries together and of promoting their advancement by the means of the interchange of ideas and of products thus secured. This Republic (Chili) which does not certainly need are to stretch its arm with the States of this Continent is now preparing one of these grand civilizing fairs and calls the attention of the world to the fact and especially America whose ... emulation we ... to excite.

In order to correctly estimate our selves we young countries need to come together to know each other to measure and compare our productive force and our state of culture.

By this mean only will we be able to lend mutual aid and to accelerate the march of progress which we are making together.

By the programme and regulations of the forthcoming International Exhibition a copy of which I herewith send you you will be able to inform yourself of its object and of its organization. They will also enable you to appreciate the sentiments which inspire Chili to solicit your co-operation which are simply that she desires the citizens of this country to contribute to the proper representation in this exposition of this country's rich natural products and of its advancement in arts and in industries. Yours respectfully

J. P. CASANUEVA

HOW TO BUY A HORSE

ADVICE FROM "ADIRONDACK MURRAY"

From the advance sheets of the Rev W H Murray's new book on "The Horse," we extract the following:

Be sure that the horse you purchase has symmetry, viz is well proportioned throughout. Never purchase a horse because he has a splendid development of one part of his organization if he be lacking in any other. Above all, keep well in mind what you are buying for and buy the horse best adapted to the work you will require of him and when such an animal is yours be content. Never jockey. An occasional exchange may be allowable but this daily swapping of horses advertises a man's incompetency for anything higher. Another caution is this never purchase a horse until you have seen him move and under the same conditions to which he will be exposed in the service you will expect of him. If for a draft, see him draw, back and turn round in both directions; if for the road see how he bundles himself, not merely on level ground but going up sharp declivities and above all in descending these. In this way you will ascertain the faults or excellencies of both his temper and structure.

In these exercises drive him yourself. The reins in a skillful hand, aided by the whip or mouth can be made to conceal grave defects. Let him move with a loose rein so that he may take his natural gait, and not his artificial, for by so doing, you will detect any mistake of judgment you may have made when looking him over in a state of activity. Many a time unsoundness will appear in motion which no inspection of the eye and finger however close can ascertain. When you have walked him and jogged him if he is to serve any other than mere draft purposes put him to his speed and keep him at it for a sufficient distance to test his breathing capacity, then pull him up, jump from the wagon and look at his flanks, inspect his nostrils and put your ear close to the side of his chest in order to ascertain if the action of the heart is normal. If this exercise has caused him to perspire freely all the better, for you can then see when you take him back to the stable whether he "dries off" quickly as all horses do in perfect health.

For Fine and Artistic Photographs go to Buchtel & Stolte, 1 and 3 First street, the only First Class Gallery in the State.

Everything is quiet once more, the election excitement being over and people can now avail themselves of the opportunity to buy their summer suits of clothing, the times being such as to warrant a general reduction in prices. Beck & Waldman are awake to the necessities of the hour, and propose to offer their customers and others a splendid chance to come out in a new rig. Their stock is complete in every respect. Boys Clothing a specialty. Bear that in mind.

The triangular fight for Governor and other State officers is over and the returns are coming in. Some think the result will be in favor of the Democratic ticket and vice versa, but it is certain that FISHEL & ROBERTS are leading in the race for supremacy in their particular line of business. This popular Clothing House is now filled in every department with the latest fashions and they are offering great bargains, though that is generally understood by all who know the firm. Leave your measure and we assure you that satisfaction will be given in every instance.

Willamette Engine Co No 1.—Drill this Thursday evening, at 7 o clock sharp.

A precious stone lay in the ground,
It ... the roughly guessed
None gave the ... it deserved
Because it was not well dressed

A man in tattered garments clad
With kindest heart within his breast
By ignorance and pride is loathed
Because he is not better dressed

Then gentlemen a warning take
By such examples here expressed
And hurry ere it be too late
To JOSEPH KOHNS and get well dressed

It s dressing that makes the man and the more beautiful and as the ... very trifling, every one should put himself in a suit of our elegant Clothing.

Stars and Meteors

At certain seasons meteors dart across the firmament between the earth and the fixed star. But they quickly vanish while the fixed star remains. In the medical firmament the great vegetable invigorant Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has long been a fixed star of the first magnitude. Little meteors in the shape of imitations bearing various names now and then attempt a glaring competition with it but they soon disappear from the field of vision leaving the glory of the invigorant unimpaired. The number of these which the ways that have come to grief within the last twenty years is beyond computation and those now in existence remain the ... tion of extinguishment. The standard tonic and alterative that cures and prevents so many distressing ... and which has done more than any other took with ... a wonderful success of strength and vitality only derives increased popularity from the attempts of charlatans to run their failures in the Hostetter groove.

AS THE LIVER is easily disordered and a great deal of Bilious Distress is apt to prevail during the spring Dr Jayne's Sanative Pills are of seasonable efficacy as they restore the Liver to healthy action and remove all Biliousness.

Sir Having first applied to a number of home physicians and failing to get relief I resolved to try your Remedy. Four bottles have completely cured me of one of the worst cases of Catarrh of which I have any knowledge, having suffered for months with an acute pain in the head and breathed only with the greatest difficulty. I deem it due you as well as suffering humanity that this recognition be made of what we deem an invaluable medicine.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 25, 1874

DRIVING HOME THE COWS

Low in the sky the last sunbeams are shining
  Lifting their gold through the apple tree boughs
Tie up your shoes and put on your hat Willie
  And we ll go together and drive home the cows

This is the way through the lane by the orchard
  Across the stone bridge where the bright waters flow
Then we ll let down the bars and leave the road open
  And over the hill to the pastures below

Here is the path where they go in the morning
  Cropping the clover and fresh dewy grass
Brushing the sweet fern and bayberry bushes
  That shed their faint perfume on all things that pass

Now we can see them at rest in the hollow
  Under the walnut trees shady and tall
You call them Willie while I pick the roses
  And white meadow rue clustered here by the wall

Dolly starts quickly her keen mother instinct
  Urging her home her young Bossy to meet
While Brindle and Buttercup Daisy and Jewel
  Come after her pacing with tardier feet

And thus by the pathways of morning returning,
  They wind round the hillside an orderly band
Past orchard and brook till they reach their night haven
  Where Bridget awaits them with milk pail in hand

Look Here on the fence is the nest of a robin
  And we see where she comes from her foraging flight
We ll watch while she s feeding her three hungry birdlings
  And tucking them under her wings for the night

Now homeward we ll haste as the twilight grows deeper
  And evening's fair star glimmers soft in the west
Tis time little boys like the cows and the robins
  With work and play ended should go to their rest

LITERARY CANNIBALS

A RACE OF EDUCATED MAN EATERS

In the Observer of last week the Rev Charles P Bush, D D, gives an interesting account of some remarkable savages which have come under his notice

"The beautiful island of Sumatra two and a half times as large as all New England, is inhabited by four and a half million of people, among whom hardly any missionary effort had, as yet, been made Parts of the island were in possession of the Dutch, and other parts were inhabited by independent tribes or principalities, among whom the Batta people or Bataks, were represented as the most intelligent and interesting, a tribe or nation of about 250,000 souls, occupying the interior central portion of the island, immediately south of the Achinese, with whom the Dutch are now at war.

"The Bataks were generally mild and inoffensive, though fierce and revengeful in time of conflict In one respect they were the most remarkable people anywhere to be found—educated cannibals. They had a written language and books, and most of the people could read, and yet they were cannibals They had an alphabet of their own, consisting of twenty-two letters and five vowel points Their language was quite original, yet simple and melodious, much like the Italian, written like our own from right to left easily learned and much used in all that region.

"Their books are written on the inner bark of a species of palm tree, their pen consisting of a mere twig, or a fibre of a leaf, their ink made of a certain gum and the juice of the sugar cane For ordinary purposes they also wrote upon smooth bamboo sticks, sometimes two inches in diameter and two or three feet long, making a letter, it might be, big enough to knock a person down—convenient for lovers delivering their own epithets, if they should not be graciously received

Their literary works were really numerous and yet not very wise, consisting largely of books of divination, jugglery and the most absurd fables about the origin and destiny of the great Batta nation. It will be seen, therefore, that they had some ambition If they should receive the Gospel they were in a good position to give it to others. Besides, much of the island was nominally Mohammedan, and so far as the Dutch had sway, they had agreed to protect the Mohammedan religion from all assault or interference from without but the Battas were simple heathen, and beyond Dutch control They believed in two gods, one above and one below—one good and one bad; but their ideas were very vague and uncertain, and they felt bound to pay far greater homage to the evil spirit than to the good, as they had most to fear from him

And yet, strange enough, French infidelity and infidel books had found their way into that country The missionaries met one of the former, who denounced the Bible as 'all a lie,' although he confessed that he had never read it but boasted that he had read Voltaire's insane tirade against it no less than ten times

And, after all this cannibalism was of a modified type They did not seem to feed on human flesh for mere love of it, nor was it their settled habit, as with some other people, to have regular cannibal feasts, but portions of the flesh of their enemies, slain in war, were tasted, as if in revenge or as denoting complete triumph The missionaries were, however, invited to one feast, for which a boy seven years of age had been seized and killed and roasted, to be eaten for the sins of his father, committed six years before the little fellow was born The missionaries respectfully declined the invitation.'

A LOUISIANA ROMANCE

The New Orleans Picayune relates this A friend of ours, not wholly unconnected with the legal profession has a daughter of whom he is immensely fond—a little golden haired, sweet-eyed princess, who is always dressed in dainty stuffs and laces, and soft and beautiful attire She is quite a capitalist in her way being possessed of various desirable properties in the Fourth district, and of divers stocks and bonds in prosperous corporations She knows all this, and though neither proud nor overbearing in consequence, has yet acquired a pretty childish dignity, which makes her all the more engaging. It so happens that one of her lots is rich in magnolia-trees, and thither very often in these balmy afternoons the father takes her to gather bouquets of fragrant flowers. Some days ago they went as usual to the magnolia grove, and on entering found that a couple of predaceous boys were in the trees culling their fairest ornaments They watched them for awhile the little girl saying nothing and the father quietly waiting to see what developments would ensue Presently however he called to one of the boys and asked for a flower.

"Oh, no, can't give you any of these magnolias"

"Won't you let the little girl have one?"

"No sir ee!"

I think you might give her just one

"No, sir; can t do it These magnolias belong to somebody You can t have any unless you pay for them"

"Well, I think you might give her one they all belong to her you know You might let her have just one"

The boy looked at him with sudden interest then at the little girl gazing into the tree with big, soft eyes, and then, seeing how pretty and gracious, and richly clad she was, he slid down like a flash and ran to her, and falling on one knee offered all his flowers He was a ragged boy, prone to much chaff and impudence and unsuspicious of the smallest rule of courtesy, but he knelt down like a courtier, and presented his simple tribute with more genuine admiration than often shines in courtiers' eyes

ANECDOTE OF LONG JOHN WENTWORTH—The scene in Professor Swing's Church, Chicago on the 24th instant, when the indebtedness of twenty thousand dollars was canceled was remarkable from the fact that one of the subscribers was Henry Greenbaum who put down his name for $500, and for the first time in the history of Chicago, a Hebrew had placed himself on record as helping to sustain the cause of Christ Among the subscribers was 'Long John Wentworth, who, speaking of it afterwards, characteristically remarked You see, they were all chipping in with their five hundreds, and their thousands, and I was about to plank down $500 myself when that little Jew jumped up and sang out that amount for his bank I didn't propose to be bluffed by any Jew in Christendom, so I stood up and requested the elder to put down $500 for the Merchant's Savings and Loan and Trust Company, and $500 for 'Long John

THE "OLD SOUTH" TO BE SOLD—A dispatch from Boston, of June 12, says The pew proprietors of the Old South Church held a meeting to-day, and voted to sell the old meeting house under a recent act of the Legislature The proceeds of the sale are to be devoted to paying for a new church, chapel, and parsonage

In local money matters [illegible] out of the [illegible] routine is developed [illegible] Some anxiety is felt to know the proportionate share of our State under the recent enactment for the redistribution of the currency Though we have no advices of the amount a leading banker informs us that it will probably be near $[illegible] The change effected by the bill has not operated on our market to any perceptible extent The banks pursue the even tenor of their way with a current business that is fairly satisfactory both in the line of discounts and deposits We have now reached the summer season which is usually attended with no considerable activity Unless something new shall be developed by the passage of the currency bill or the adjournment of Congress there probably remains yet ahead of us an uninteresting and dull but not particularly distressing period of about six weeks as far as financial matters are concerned The demand for money shows but little change from day to day either in the amount or the sources from whence it come Discounts and rates of interest as far as quotable remain the same money is in good supply and caution on the part of lenders is as prevalent as it has been for a month past and no indications are now apparent that the situation will be to any extent changed for a future period of the [illegible] duration The opening of the fall trade most likely will be the first event to disturb the serenity of the money market. That promises a fair amount of activity and a brisk though not pressing demand for available funds

What We Pay to Foreign Ships.

The New York Herald says we find that in 18[illegible] the amount paid to foreign steamships was as follows

Freight money	$1[illegible],[illegible] 71
Passage money American first class passengers	10,[illegible]
Passage money (immigrants	11,[illegible]
Total	$1[illegible],921
Add passage money paid by foreign first class passengers	2,[illegible]
Grand total	$1[illegible],411

In 1861 we were earning seventy one per cent of the corresponding payments made in that year but to-day all but the last small item goes out of our own pockets and not a dollar comes back again The sum of $1[illegible] is paid pro rata by every inhabitant of this country It is eminently desirable that an impost of such magnitude when collected should be spent at home nor should it be forgotten that the entire sum of $1[illegible],921 is a drain upon our national supply of gold since it must all be accounted for in that medium of exchange and not in paper money

Coffees and Teas

The continued full prices for these much used articles in the face of the abolition of the American tariff is a conundrum which has not yet been solved to the satisfaction of consumers at least. The rise in coffees which took place last fall says the North American was the result of a vast combination having its center in Rotterdam Antwerp and Hamburg The most elaborate and ingenious calculations were circulated, alleging short crops, deficient stocks and increased consumption This is usual in such cases, but the only basis generally is the same as in this coffee movement—pure speculation In 1870 the price of coffee in the cities named was 60 to 70 centimes per kilo, and from this it rose in 1872 to 80 centimes, and in last February to 1 40 fr. This speculation enlisted leading merchants and went on until these merchants had lost £220 000 and found themselves stranded, with 500 000 bags of coffee at Antwerp and more to arrive What the situation must be at other centers of the coffee trade, may be easily conjectured

When Congress removed the duty on tea and coffee, says the Boston Journal, it was anticipated that the cost to the consumers of these commodities would be greatly lessened. The almond eyed Orientals who had been watching the course of events, at once concluded that as everybody rushed into the importation of teas from the corner grocer to the tea merchant who commanded his millions a portion of the duty had better pass into their pockets, and they have advanced the rates till those who indulged in visions of a cheap breakfast table find that for tea and coffee they pay just as much as they did before the duty was taken off Uncle Sam has lost $18 000 000 a year by the removal of the duty which has all gone into the pockets of that velvet-eyed race which don't pretend to know anything about political economy and don't hold any social science meetings but is very ready to crack a nut when they can pick it up. We want the eighteen millions in the Treasury It would be a convenient little sum in the present emergency It is a tax which is easily collected and the cost of collection is nominal Ten or fifteen cents per pound tea would yield a handsome income and the tax would not be felt by the people for if it checked consumption at first the falling off in demand would reduce prices in China and Japan. It is proposed that the amount should be devoted to the creation of a sinking fund for the resumption of specie payments

THE DIFFICULTY WITH JUPITER

There seems to be some trouble in the planetary system The first three satellites of Jupiter are having a family disturbance It is barely possible that the ring which has its local habitation close to Saturn may have been watching the successful progress of some of our New York rings and is trying to get control of the supply of light and gravitation among the celestial Bodies At any rate the [illegible] up there somewhere and [illegible] proposed by some of the enterprising journ[illegible] to hire Jules Verne's cannon and send three or four reporters to find out what the trouble is Although up to this present writing no volunteers for this aerial cruise has [illegible] presented themselves there will undoubtedly be as many as the projectile will hold when the hour arrives to start They will probably buy tickets to Jupiter via the moon in order to interview that luminary which has been somewhat coquettish of late They will come back—well the precise route has not yet been determined It just occurs to us to say that the old story about the morning stars singing together seems to be somewhat threadbare They may have exercised their voices [illegible] at younger in a kind of family [illegible] but of late years if science is to be trusted they have had disturbances up above which show plainly enough that there is a species of physical rebellion going on They do not regard themselves as amenable to the common law of gravitation But in the asteroid zone [illegible] they are flying about at random [illegible] getting themselves into such out-of-the-way places that our astronomers who are [illegible] [illegible]
